FORMERLY OF FLEMING

John N. Wooliscroft Died Saturday at His Home in Covington

Mr. John Noland Wooliscroft, for many years a prominent grain merchant of Cincinnati, died Saturday at his home in Covington, aged 69.

He was born in Galesburg, Ill., his father being the Rev. Absalom Wooliscroft and his mother Harriet Ann Noland.

During his youth he lived in Flemingsburg; and it will be recalled that he was one of the speakers at the Tobacco Fair in this city two years ago, when he referred with singular tenderness to his happy young life in Fleming and in Maysville.

Mr. Wooliscroft is survived by his widow, who was Miss Mattie Hughes, whom he married in 1879, and two daughters, Miss Sara Lucy Wooliscroft and Miss Rachael Anger Wooliscroft.

HUNDREDS OF YOU INTEND BUYING

Outfits for the Easter Holidays.

It stands to reason you will look through our lines before you buy. In our house you have a greater variety to choose from than any three houses in the state combined can show you. In addition to this, here you choose from the best merchandise that the country produces. Please take our advice and come in before the holiday rush begins. We will have more time to give you the attention you are entitled to. Our past week's business flatters us into the belief that Maysville's trade will be something enormous this spring, and as we (thanks to you) always get our proportionate allotment, we feel sure it will be wise in you and pleasant to us to make your selections in this and early part of next week. See our Clothing and Shoe Display in our windows.

GENERAL DRAGONIROFF urges the Czar to continue the war. Evidently the rambunctious General won't be satisfied until the Japs knock him off.

THERE are 622,341 Knights of Pythias in the United States; and there would have been 622,355 if a fool with a pistol hadn't killed a candidate out in Arkansas a few nights ago.

You may say what you please as to the fairness of the CALEB POWERS trials; but the fact remains that the Court of Appeals has three times declared that he was not fairly convicted.

R. W. BACON was the Juror who canoodled with the Hargis Attorneys in an effort to "fix" a Jury that would clear his friends. If the Court does its duty, HARGIS will have a hard time saving his bacon.

THE HON. J. HAMILTON LEWIS, former member of Congress and now a leader of the Chicago Socialist Democracy, thinks municipal ownership will finally extend to the Nation, and that "the American people will be called upon to decide whether running the mails of this country successfully they cannot also run the telegraphs and the railroads." "Running the mails successfully" is good—devilish good—as long as the people whack up a deficit of from $4,000,000 to $8,000,000 a year! How long would private enterprise stand such wilful waste?

THE death of Hon. ED. DAUM, Commonwealth's Attorney for this District, will necessitate the choice of his successor at the coming November election. In the meantime the Governor will appoint some one to fill the place.

IN the trial of Judge JAMES HARGIS in the Fayette Circuit Court a sensation was sprung by the confession of a Juror that he had conspired with and advised Attorneys for the defense as to the names of men who would be beneficial and who would not be beneficial to the defense if placed on the Jury. A little thing like that ought not to have occasioned the least "sensation." With the Jury-fixing methods introduced into Kentucky by TOM CAMPBELL, and successfully practiced in the Caleb Powers trials, people are becoming quite accustomed to bribery and corruption "under the forms of law."

EVEN the University of Virginia, founded eighty years ago by THOMAS JEFFERSON, has departed from its "Jeffersonian simplicity." Dr. EDWARD ANDERSON ALDERMAN has been installed President of the University. Unusual interest attached to the event as marking the first change in the governmental policy of the institution established by Mr. JEFFERSON, and to which that famous statesman enthusiastically devoted the latter period of his life. Jeffersonian simplicity of government of the institution did not contemplate a President. JEFFERSON wrote in its charter that government should be administered by a Board of Regents, a Chairman for which should be annually elected from among the Professors. Along these lines the University of Virginia grew to its place as a potent factor among the higher institutions of learning of the South. The recent development of the University has rendered its efficient administration impracticable under the old methods, and the change is made to meet the larger demands.

GOOD for OLD and YOUNG

August Flower keeps the children healthy and strong—Full of vigor and frolic the whole day long. So when Mamma needs more they run off in high glee. And shout to the druggist: "Please give it to me!"
Inability to get up brisk and fresh in the morning, lack of appetite, pallor, muddy complexion and poor spirits—these all indicate a disordered stomach and bad digestion—in adults and children too. They also indicate the urgent need of taking Green's August Flower regularly for a few days.
It's a reliable old remedy for all stomach troubles, never fails to cure indigestion, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and is a natural tonic for body and mind.
Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

"There Isn't One Really Good Printer in Five Hundred."

Printers' Ink—the leading journal on publicity of all kinds—has the following to say: "There are thousands of printers in this country, good, indifferent, and a lot of bad ones. There isn't one really good printer in five hundred. Intelligent advertisers are willing to pay for good printing, no matter where it comes from."
Printers' Ink knows what it is talking about. Poor printing is a bad investment—it's worse than a blank. A business man's stationery or booklet is like a traveling man—if it's neat, well-dressed and to the point, the first impression is good and your chances of doing business on the strength of it are good.
We realize this. We keep abreast of the times. We know what good printing is and produce it. We are pretty careful not to let a bun job get out our presses. No press in the country can better our printing and we want you to know it.

Combination Sale.

I have decided to have another Combination Sale on Wednesday, May 24th, 1905. There will be free music, free transportation and entertaining auctioneers. Those who attended my Combination Sale July 27th, 1904, know what a Combination Sale means. That was a very successful sale, and there will be features connected with this one which are bound to make it very attractive. If you have a piece of property that you are determined to sell, and it is difficult to find a purchaser, list it with me and permit me to make a trial in this way. If you will make your price right I have no fears but what we can find a buyer. This sale will not be confined to city property. If you have a farm that you are anxious to sell I can sell it for you in this way.

Come at once and let us talk the matter over.

IMPRESSIVE INCIDENT

Pretty New York Stenographer's Life Saved By a Hug

You would not wish to see a more extraordinarily impressive incident than one which held a New York subway crowd silent for a moment yesterday, says the correspondent of The Times-Star. Upon the concrete flooring of the Fourteenth Street Station, the sunlight streaming down upon her from the glazed roof over which shuddered the traffic of a city street, a young girl, her form still palpitating with the horror of a look into death's very eyes, knelt and gave thanks to God that her life had been spared. There was nothing theatrical about the incident. It was not a striving for effect. So filled with sincere and simple earnestness was the girl's act that she appeared—and probably was—quite unconscious of the presence of the score or more of people who watched her. With her hands clasped upon her breast and her whole attitude one of devotion, she raised her eyes, brimming with tears, and spoke her prayer of thanksgiving even as she might have done in the solitude of her bed-chamber. Then she rose and made her way to the street without a glance to right or left.

The girl was Isabel Collins, a stenographer. With a girl companion she had attempted to board an express train. The sliding door of the car was closed by a careless guard just as the train started. Miss Collins was shut out of the car, but her skirt was caught in the door. By-standers heard one startled shriek and saw the girl dragged along the concrete platform to what seemed a certain death. A policeman had sufficient presence of mind to hurl himself upon her, as a football player would tackle an opponent. Miss Collins, furthermore, may never again declare that she hasn't been hugged. The brawny policeman wound his arms about her, shoved his foot against the base of a pillar, and gave one tremendous pull. An instant more and the girl would have been dragged over the edge of the platform to a frightful death. But the pull and the hug saved her.

There was a sound of tearing fabric—and then the policeman carried a dead weight of fainting girl to the nearest bench. A patch of cloth, as broad as your two hands, was missing from the bottom of her skirt. Half the women in the station were hysterical, and half the men fell over one another, running for a doctor. Some one brought a glass of water and sprinkled the girl's face. She came to consciousness with a scream, as well she might, having seen and felt death facing her in her last conscious moments. Then, when it had been found that she was not seriously hurt, such a flood of thankfulness surged into her heart that she knelt and prayed. It was a pretty incident. But she might have given that policeman a chance to show what he could do without the interfering effect of a subway train attached to a young lady's skirt.

The biggest cannon ball ever made weighed 2,600 pounds, and was manufactured at the Krupp Works, Essen, for the Government of the Czar. The gun from which this projectile was fired is also the largest in the world, and is placed in the fortifications of Cronstadt. This gun has a range of twelve miles, and it is estimated that each shot costs $1,500.

Compressing 300,000 newspapers by hydraulic machinery, an American inventor has constructed a yacht of the material thus obtained, complete in every detail, and no less than sixteen feet in length. Everything about the little vessel is of paper—not only the hull, but the masts and even the sails. The Paris Auto vouches for the fact that the yacht is not a mere toy, but a real vessel capable of fulfilling all the requirements of any ship of similar size.

ONLY ONE. The Record in Maysville is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Maysville citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:
Henry Bertram, shoemaker, of 27 East Third St., Maysville, Ky., says:
"I believe everybody in Maysville has read in the papers the testimony I gave in March, 1900, about Doan's Kidney Pills, for I have been asked again and again by residents of this town if that statement were true. For the benefit of persons who may now be suffering from some form of kidney trouble I repeat my testimony. Before I got Doan's Kidney Pills at J. Jas. Wood & Son's Drugstore I had suffered for some time with backache and a tired feeling and heaving aching in and about the kidneys. Being a shoemaker I thought my trouble was caused by my work, for every time I took a cold it settled in my back, but Doan's Kidney Pills quickly rid me of the trouble, and never from that time to this have I had any cause to complain of my back or kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills perform exactly what they promise, and to be honest with you, I will say that in my opinion there is no remedy for kidney disorders equal to Doan's Kidney Pills."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

What We Are Aiming At

To build up in Maysville the greatest exclusive millinery establishment ON MERIT.

The central idea is to give reliable styles in good standard materials.

The shapes are more varied than ever—exclusiveness is indicated on every side—hundreds of hats and no duplicates. Elegance, exclusiveness and moderate prices go hand in hand here.

As these facts dawn upon our patrons our business grows.
